The appearance of the code at the bottom of the first page of an article in this journal indicates the copyright owner's consent that copies of the article may be made for personal or internal use, or for the personal or internal use of specific clients. This consent is given on the condition, however, that the copier pay the stated per copy fee through the Copyright Clearance Center, Inc. (27 Congress Street, Salem, Massachusetts 01970), for copying beyond that permitted by Sections 107 or 108 of the U.S. Copyright Law. This consent does not extend to other kinds of copying, such as copying for general distribution, for advertising or promotional purposes, for creating new collective works, or for resale. Copy fees for pre-1993 articles are as shown on the article title pages; if no fee code appears on the title page, the copy fee is the same as for current articles.

INFORMATION FOR AUTHORS

The Journal of Research in Personality will publish studies in the field of personality and in related fields basic to the understanding of personality. Subject matter will include treatments of genetic, physiological, motivational, learning, perceptual, cognitive, and social processes of both normal and abnormal kinds in both human and animal subjects.

Equal emphasis will be placed on experimental and descriptive research, with preference given to presentations of an integrated series of independent studies concerned with significant theoretical issues relating to personality. The Journal will also publish theoretical articles and critical reviews of current experimental and methodological interest, as well as brief notes and critiques.

Authors submitting a manuscript do so on the understanding that if it is accepted for publication, copyright in the article, including the right to reproduce the article in all forms and media, shall be assigned exclusively to the Publisher. The Publisher will not refuse any reasonable request by the author for permission to reproduce any of his or her contributions to the journal.

Manuscripts should be submitted to the Editor, Dr. David C. Funder, Journal of Research in Personality, Department of Psychology, University of California, Riverside, California 92521.

Original papers only will be considered. Manuscripts are accepted for review with the understanding that the same work has not been and will not be nor is presently submitted elsewhere, and that all persons listed as authors have given their approval for the submission of the paper; further, that any person cited as a source of personal communications has approved such citation. Written authorization may be required at the Editor's discretion. Articles and any other material published in the Journal of Research in Personality represent the opinions of the author(s) and should not be construed to reflect the opinions of the Editor(s) and the Publisher.

Form of Manuscript. Manuscripts must be typewritten, double-spaced, on one side of numbered pages. Three copies must be submitted, each copy including all figures and tables. One copy remains the property of the Journal.

Each manuscript must have two prefatory pages. The first should give the title of the article, authors' names (without degrees), affiliations, a short title not exceeding 35 characters and spaces, and name and address to which proof should be mailed, including the ZIP code in the U.S. The short title will appear at the top of the continuation pages of the published paper.

The second prefatory page must include an abstract of 100–120 words, conforming to the style of Psychological Abstracts.

The text of the manuscript should begin on the next page, with all pages numbered consecutively, beginning with 1. Format and style must conform in all details to the conventions and rules given in the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (3rd edition, 1983). The organization of the paper should be clearly indicated by appropriate headings and subheadings. The number of footnotes should be kept to a minimum.

Figures and Tables. All graphs, drawings, and illustrations are considered as figures and must be submitted in finished form ready for photoreproduction. Each figure must be numbered consecutively with Arabic numerals in order of mention in the text. Descriptive legends for figures should be typed on a separate page. Illustrations in color can be accepted only if the authors defray the cost.

Tables should be typed on separate pages numbered consecutively with Arabic numerals in order of mention in the text. Each table must have a descriptive heading, double-spaced, above the table. Footnotes to tables should be identified by superscript symbols other than numerals and placed below the table.

Figures and tables should be carefully planned to fit the proportion of the printed page. The size of figures submitted should be about twice that of final publication size, and lettering on the original must be large enough to be legible after a reduction of 50 percent.

Proofs and Reprints. There is no page charge for publication. Proofs and reprint order forms will be sent to the author indicated on page one. Fifty reprints will be provided free of charge, and additional copies may be ordered.

Personal Computer Disks. Manuscripts may be submitted to Journal of Research in Personality on personal computer disks after the manuscript has been accepted and after all revisions have been incorporated onto the disk. Label the disk with the type of computer used, the type of software and the version number, and the disk format. All tabular material will be typeset conventionally. Art must be prepared as camera-ready copy; see the section on Figures earlier in this Information for Authors.

A hard copy printout of the manuscript that exactly matches the disk file must be supplied. Academic Press will not accept disks without accompanying printouts of all files on the disk. File names must clearly indicate the content of each file. The manuscript will be edited according to the style of the journal, and the proofs must be read carefully by the author. Disks that are not translatable or economical to process will not be used. The publisher reserves the right not to use the disk.

For further information on preparing disks for typesetting conversion, please contact the publisher (Editorial Supervisor, Journal Division, Academic Press, Inc., 525 B Street, Suite 1900, San Diego, California 92101-4495; telephone: (619) 699-6415; fax: (619) 699-6800).
